What happens when a real life book club decides to write their own novel? The result is a fresh, fun story about a group of women who have more in common than just the books they read. What happens when a real-life book club decides to write its own novel? The result is a fresh, fun story about a group of women who have more in common than just the books they read. Fourth Sunday is the tale of seven women and their journey toward friendship by way of a simple book club. Over time, their friendship grows beyond books, as their lives, relationships, careers, and families become one. The women--Gwen, Natalie, Allana, Brianna, Camille, Destiny, and Adriane--share not only their love of books at these monthly meetings but their life experiences as well. Over two years, the women undergo a number of personal trials as they confront divorce, illness, romantic highs and lows, sexual experimentation, and career challenges. Through good times and bad, their newfound family offers support, encouragement, laughter, and love. Fourth Sunday is an instant book club classic, filled with lively reflections on business and politics, health and happiness, life and literature in all its page-turning glory. It is funny, it is sad, it is thought provoking . . . but most of all, it is real.
